WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Champions of small business headed for the White House today to place before President Roosevelt the fruits of their unvarnished industrial "grass-roots" conference.

A committee of ten, headed by Fred Roth, Cleveland shoe dealer, will offer for administration consideration the multi-fold program adopted by the conference yesterday amid riotous acclaim.

Demand Breathing Spell
Promised a sympathetic hearing.

By Mr. Roosevelt, the committee will make its demands that the government pave the way for small industry and request another "breathing spell" for business.

More than 100 resolutions were jammed through to approval by the machine-like tactics of Roth and his committee. Each resolution will be submitted to the president, accompanied by a general statement drafted by the committee.

Roth and his group belittled charges by angry delegates that the resolutions had been "steamrollered" through the conference and that the committee had been "bought."

Report Street Fighting
Is Raging In Canton(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Feb. 4.—While reported street fighting raged in Canton's streets, Japanese war planes staged a spectacular attack on the region surrounding the huge southern Chinese port today in what may prove to be the opening of a major military campaign in China.

With anti-aircraft shells bursting all around them, the Japanese planes crossed and recrossed the sky over Canton, but managed to escape the furious fire directed against them by Chinese batteries, though some of the fliers swooped dangerously low.

Reports received here, however, stated the planes did not bomb the city proper but reserved their tons of explosive missiles for nearby railway lines.

At the same time, strict martial law was being enforced by Chinese authorities in Canton. Soldiers halted and searched all automobiles entering the city.

The fighting in the streets, according to Japanese advice, followed an attempted coup d'état against the regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek Japanese sources said they believed that a reported landing of Japanese troops at Canton was a smoke-screen sent out to cover up Canton's internal strife.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—Causing Great Britain to consider plans for a naval blockade of Majorca, two Spanish insurgent planes bombed and sank the 1,387-ton British freighter Alcira off Barcelona today.

The crew of 25 men and an officer appointed by the international non-intervention committee were saved by a Spanish fishing smack.

The new outbreak of Mediterranean piracy occurred only a few days after the British freighter Endymion was torpedoed and sunk with a loss of eleven lives and a need to increase British guard to the point of apprehension. The Alcira flew the British flag and the neutral emblem of the non-intervention pact.

Need Sterner Measures
The new incident convinced British authorities that measures taken immediately after the Endymion sinking are insufficient to cope with practical assaults on neutral shipping in the Mediterranean.

As a consequence, members of the government and the navy have commenced discussing the possibility of sending a naval expeditionary force to blockade the island of Majorca.

The national submarines and airplanes held responsible for the attacks have been operating out of Palma, the Italian-controlled chief port of Majorca.

Survivors of the Alcira said the sinking planes were three-motored Savoia-Marchetti of Italian manufacture. They were clearly (Continued On Page Two)

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Wearing a smile as expansive as his broad face, former President Herbert Hoover today said he was amused at news from Washington about the meeting of small American business men.

On a brief stop-over here en route to New York, Hoover said, "This news from Washington amuses me. Certainly it is not without its humorous side."

"Seriously, I think what happened in the past few days very closely expresses the attitude of the whole of small business throughout the country toward the administration."

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Ocean liners and smaller craft straggled into their ports hours late today as heavy fog which shrouded New York harbor from early afternoon yesterday lifted and visibility was restored.

Due at 7 p. m. last night, the liner Normandie anchored off Ambrose lightship with visibility at zero and remained there until almost 2 a. m. today.

Shipping Delayed.
Some 250 commuters homeward bound to Staten Island fretted and fussed for two hours after Capt. Joseph Byrnes ran a municipal ferryboat around at Robbins light reef to avoid collision with two oil barges. Tugs pulled the ferryboat free and Byrnes was later suspended on orders of Mayor F. H. LaGuardia pending investigation.

Two Holland-American line boats, the Statendam, inbound, and the Rotterdam, outbound, were delayed. Almost zero visibility at Newark airport sent Capt. T. J. Lee of American Airlines searching for a hole in the fog to set down his transcontinental plane with four passengers and he travelled all the way to an optional landing field at Providence, R. I., before he found one. The landing was made without incident. The fog extended from Maine to Cape Hatteras.

Wright Case May
Reach Jury Monday(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—The "white flame" murder trial of Paul A. Wright, accused killer of Paul A. Wright and his friend, John E. Kimmel, reached its eighth day today, and was expected to go to the jury by Monday or Tuesday.

Should Wright, who killed his pretty, Auburn-haired wife, Evelyn, 22, and Kimmel because, as he claims, he saw them sitting in the Wright living room on the morning of November 9 in a passionate, illicit embrace, be found guilty in any degree, he must then face an insanity trial.

The intense excitement of the trial, testimony having ended, opposing counsel began "mopping up" the odds and ends of the case today in the hopes that by Monday they could begin their arguments to the jury of nine men and three women in whose hands Wright's fate rests.

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 4.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the home of Mrs. Nellie M. Foltz, about two miles north of New Wilmington, at 9:45 o'clock Thursday evening, with a loss of $5,000. Insurance totaling $4,200 was carried by Mrs. Foltz.

There was no one at home at the time, a son, Leonard J. Foltz, discovering the blaze as he was walking up the road after leaving the house about 15 minutes beforehand. He happened to turn around to look back and noticed the flames coming out the roof.

New Wilmington firemen were summoned, but by the time they were able to get to the scene the house was doomed. They succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading to the barn nearby.

In addition to the home and all its contents, 1,600 bushels of potatoes stored in the cellar were destroyed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Mrs. Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Flegenheimer today charged that "Dixie" Davis is hiding $1,000,000 and a secret will of her late gangster husband.

The anti-offending widow, who looks more like a New England schoolmarm than a gangster's wife, declared she will launch a bitter fight to get the wealth she thinks belongs to her as soon as the elusive "Dixie" is brought back to New York.

"I believe he is deliberately concealing a sum close to $1,000,000 which my husband entrusted to him for the benefit of myself and our two children," she declared. "Davis is the only Judas my husband ever knew."

Mayor Charles E. McGrath, councilman colleagues and supervisors of Neshannock township, held a harmonious meeting relative to the proposed construction of the North Mercer street-Buclid avenue storm sewer Thursday afternoon at the mayor's private office.

Indications are that some plan satisfactory to both city and township will be arranged relative to the proposed Troy-WPA job, thus giving employment to many men with an expenditure of about $154,000.

The city wants a right of way through Buclid avenue between North Mercer street to Wilmington avenue. This section is in the township. If this is secured the sewer when completed will carry off surface water from that section of the North Hill into the Shenango river.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 4.—Samuel Fleischman, attorney for Milton Gurnins, 31, charged with running an unauthorized lottery in the name of the late Will Rogers, announced today he will apply to Supreme Court Justice Samuel J. Hays for a writ of habeas corpus and reduction of bail from $50,000.

Gurnins was arrested after Mrs. Rogers, widow of the humorist, had complained to the Buffalo Better Business Bureau that the unauthorized use of her husband's name was being made in connection with a lottery "for the benefit of the Will Rogers Memorial hospital, Chicago."

When arrested Gurnins had 3,700 lottery tickets in his possession.

In setting the high bail City Judge Keeler declared:

You and others in this scheme are accused of seeking to capitalize on the reverence held by everybody for our late national hero. It will not reduce bail one cent."

OBSERVES

This week we saw a lady in a store with a red basket, ready to take her groceries home. Also we saw a man with a deep red basket, with the handle hanging in the crook of his arm, probably going to load it up with good things for the table. We don't often see these baskets being carried any more. Folks have come to think that it is all out of "fashion" to carry a basket, and they bring their purchases home now in a paper "poke."

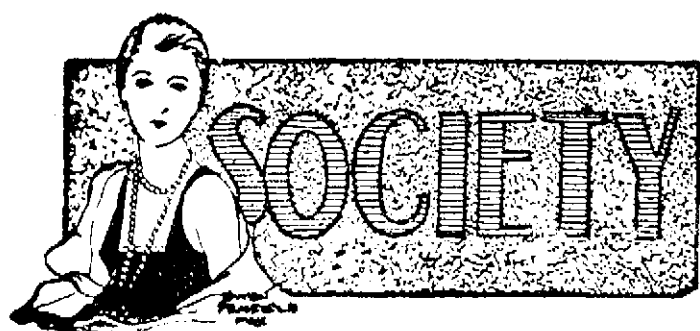

It has been reported that a wolf-dog has been wandering over the North Hill section, and efforts have been made to capture it. On Monday morning of this week at 3 o'clock, the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Melvin of Sumner avenue was crying, and Mr. Melvin got up and gave it some milk. He heard their Boston terrier dog growling near the window, and went over to see what was the trouble, and saw the "wolf-dog" standing outside the house looking up at the windows. Mr. Melvin stated that if he had a gun, he could have easily shot him.

New Castle contractors and firms seem to be having quite well in the contracts being let for buildings at various institutions in Western Pennsylvania, during the past few weeks.

An automobile traveling at an entirely unwarlike rate of speed was seen going through the Grant and Sampson streets intersection. This intersection is used by children.

WHAT A TURF! WORD

(International News Service)
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 31.—An expression of the Spanish language to include an antonym for "beauty" was suggested recently by Dr. F. M.

Mitchell, head of the Latin department at the University of New Mexico here.

The word, Dr. Mitchell said, would be "turpity" taken from the Latin. The noun would be "turpification."

Business Better Figures Reveal

Moderately Large Gains In All Major Lines Of Business Shown By Survey

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—Moderately large gains last week in nearly all major lines of business in the Pittsburgh district were reported today by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh.

The greater increases were in industrial production, according to the bureau, and the volume of originating shipments was the heaviest in seven weeks.

A little more activity was shown in the steel industry, the operating rate being the highest since the middle of November 1937, according to the bureau. The current operating rate, however, is not much more than one-third of what it was this time a year ago, the bureau reported.

The index of business in the Pittsburgh district gained nearly two points last week, rising from 70.7 percent in the week ended January 22 to 72.5 percent last week, according to the bureau.

uncertain and they took upon life as a diabolical machine contrived to make them seem ridiculous.

"There are certain laws about living but the fortunate folk use them without knowing they exist. Laws about getting along with people, laws about winning your way and accepting victory and reconciling defeat, all laws about big and little things, about trivial and magnificent affairs. And some people who have never been to school at all know instinctively, it seems, how to use these laws of life; while other people who are packed with learning and noisy with theory never do seem to learn how to live and are like fumbling children to the end of their days.

Wise living is something like riding a bicycle. A good deal of faith must go into it. A good deal of natural wisdom. A good deal of confidence that even if you do fall off, you'll not be hurt very much and you can get up and get on again and keep going until you conquer and succeed in what you have set out to do.

or relief (a proposed state law in Ohio, which finally was vetoed by Governor Martin L. Davey as "repulsive.") Do you know what would happen in Cleveland if the very poor piece of bread that is doled out were to be taken away from hungry mouths? There are many that want to become citizens and cannot for different reasons. Some haven't the necessary $2.50-$3 for pictures, 50 cents for making out the papers.

"My husband 11 years ago was rejected at the examiner's office because of the witnesses. As he only had one week left on the first papers, he was advised to get first papers again. He did not immediately do so. He again took out papers two and one-half years ago. Now they cannot locate his arrival card.

"He is 27 years in America and all but six months in Cleveland. He had to make out an affidavit which costs $10 and $1 pictures. We did not have that $11. We waited until after saving a dollar from the $60 each month I finally got $11. Now I am told my husband cannot work on WPA. I have no other income as my husband was always in business and has no trade and is now too old to learn a trade. I have three boys, oldest 14½, youngest 8½.

"That law if enforced would cause a great deal of hardship. When a child is hungry it cries, whether alien or not."

"MRS. AMELIA SINGER."

ANSWERS
Here are a few sentences conned from the answers to that letter:
"I'll go one better—after we starve all the aliens (why not shoot them, it's much cheaper?) let's make a law forcing every male head of the family to be branded on his forehead."

"America is supposed to be a free country."

"The alien helped to build this country and his descendants will continue building long after we are gone."

"My parents came here in 1913. They bought a home and, until they lost it in the depression, they paid high taxes. Now after all the money they spent here they should be shipped back because they're down and out and need a little help."

"Why don't they go back to their own country and have their government care for them?"

"Why should aliens get relief? Who asked them to come over in the first place?"

"Losing homes, savings, through bank failures and loss of jobs, they now are victims of government and state politics. Educated here where labor was scarce, then deprived of a living—deportation is no cure. Work and wages are the solution."

"Is it right to leave a man to starve to death just because he was not born in this country? Is a man not human regardless of his birthplace?"

"If aliens had been excluded during the 10 previous depressions and panics we would not be a nation today..."

"I suggest we ship back to Europe not only those who were born there, but even all descendants of those who ever came here from Europe as far back as 1492..."

Methods Of Hiring Labor Will Undergo Extensive Probing

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—A sweeping investigation of the methods of hiring labor for the various county construction projects was under way today after the county commissioners were jolted into action by revelations that irregular methods were being employed. Fearing a loss of heavy WPA and WPA appropriations because in some instances workers were hired through outside agencies instead of through local agencies as demanded by the federal government, the commissioners ordered an immediate investigation and change.

Hacker Ousted By Central Labor Union

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—More expulsions today piled up on Carl Hacker, former president of Local 237, Hotel and Restaurant Workers Alliance for his recent speech in which with equal fervor he praised communism and attacked William Green, head of the A. F. of L.

Hacker, ousted as head of his labor union last following the speech was expelled by the Central Labor Union last night by a unanimous vote. He came prepared to fight but President Charles Miller ordered him from the hall. Previous to that, Judge Frank P. Patterson denied him a preliminary injunction to prevent the restaurant union, which is an A. F. of L. affiliate, from ousting him as president.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Business Seen More Efficient

Outdoes Government In Efficiency, Washington Columnist Asserts

BETTER DESPITE MANY FAILINGS

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—A reader raises this point: "Do you really believe that business is any more efficient than the New Deal?"

Yes, I do believe so. But, if I believed the New Deal to be more efficient than business, I still do not think I would be paying much of a compliment to the New Deal, for business does not seem to me to be efficient enough to be hard to beat, by even a very small medium of efficiency.

AS STEWART SELLS IT Business, if efficient at all, certainly ought to be sufficiently so as to keep a country's economic status reasonably stable—to maintain tolerably good times as a regular thing, and also to keep them improving gradually.

It hasn't done it. As far back as we can remember we have had about three major depressions per century, with one or two minor depressions per interval.

WHERE BUSINESS FAILS We have had intervening booms, too, but they have been as dangerous as their succeeding slumps have been painful.

Yet business has not been able to recognize a boom as a boom while said boom actually was booming. We had a post-war boom. It lasted so long that it puzzled me. My idea was that we should have had a terrible, prolonged depression after so terrific a conflict.

I got an interview on the subject with Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce. I took him to be pre-eminently a business expert. He assured me that that thing was not a boom; that we were living in a new age of the world; that what I called a boom was, in reality, our modern "normality". We know what followed before the end of his presidential term.

Since then I never have had much confidence in a business judgment.

A CONTRAST

Now, contrast business' inefficiency with government's inefficiency! Business does have a certain authority about it. A business boss gives orders and they are obeyed or somebody gets fired. A governmental boss gives orders and his subordinates, if he has political influence, may defy them successfully. All sorts of confusion results, naturally.

My querist did not ask, "Is business more efficient than government?" He asked, "Is business more efficient than the New Deal?"

"CHURNED UP"

The New Deal now, however, is government. That is to say, it is the executive end of government. It likewise is nothing to be the judicial end of government. But it is not the legislative end of it. Indeed, it is, more and more, losing control of the legislative end.

The whole thing is churned up, in short—and a churned up condition does not make for efficiency.

BUSINESS MORE EFFICIENT

It is an old story that a despotism, if a good one, AS a despotism, is efficient. American business is not a first-class despotism, but it tries to approximate it. I think that New Dealism, trying in the same direction, is not succeeding so well.

Accordingly, what is the conclusion? Business, at least, is cohesive. Democracy dissipates itself.

I hate to say so, but I think that business will turn out to be the more efficient of the two, in the natural course of events—not in the far geological future, but for the next few generations.

Hunters Making Reports On Kill

Over 400,000 Hunters Have Made Return On Amount Of Game Killed In State

A complete tabulation of the 1937 game kill was ordered by the Pennsylvania Game Commission at its January meeting, according to an announcement made public today by Seth Gordon, executive director of the commission.

The commission has worked out a plan whereby it hopes for the first time to learn just how much game of all kinds was taken in a single season by the licensed hunters. Director Gordon stated.

The revised law, which reduced the penalty for failure to submit the game-kill reports from $20 to $2, and the decision of the commission to exact the $2 fine only if the licensed hunters fail to cooperate, has resulted so far in the return of over 400,000 reports, with additional ones coming in daily in large numbers.

The date for submitting this information was January 15, but since the old law was unenforceable, and because the commission intends, insofar as is physically possible, to uphold the provisions of the new one, negligent licensed hunters will have a brief further opportunity to "slide under the wire" while the mechanical tabulating work is underway, which, when completed, will provide a list of the license holders who are still delinquent.

Arrested Here; On Trial At Cleveland

Anthony De Capro, 19, of Cleveland, who was arrested here recently by Chief of Detectives Ray Showalter and Cleveland officers in connection with a Cleveland restaurant robbery that resulted in the shooting to death of Special Police Lawrence Krull, is on trial at Cleveland. He was accused of driving the auto three men used in the holdup and alleged murder.

First Contribution To Battery B Memorial Fund Is Reported

Opening the list of contributions for the monument to Battery B on the Gettysburg Battlefield, J. F. Rente, general manager of the New Castle News, today announced a gift of $100 to the fund as the first of the newspaper.

In announcing the gift, Mr. Rente said, "These moneys should have been a proper marker on the field of Gettysburg marking the place where our own Lawrence county men were under fire. The reason why it has not been done before is probably due to the fact that it was never before presented to the public in its proper light. When the 75th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg is held next July, I think that Battery B of the First Pennsylvania Light Field Artillery will be represented by a monument that will be in keeping with the courage and heroism of the Lawrence county men who fought there."

Others Expected

With the first contribution pledged, others are expected to follow. Several ex-service organizations have expressed their intention of being a part of this campaign to raise funds for a monument and many private individuals have also expressed their intention of doing their part.

General solicitation has not started yet but this does not prevent any person or organization from making their contributions. Anyone wishing to do so in advance of the solicitation campaign can have their money or pledge with Edwin O. Reed, county welfare officer, whose office is directly across from the court house on Court street.

There should be no difficulty in raising this money. It is a debt of honor that every Lawrence county citizen owes. Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the New Castle schools, said today that the idea of a school children's contribution to the fund was a worthy one.

Said Dr. Green, "In future years when the present school children visit Gettysburg battlefield as adults, it seems to me they will be proud to know they have had a share in placing the monument. Every school teacher in the county would be glad to co-operate in the matter. The pennies and nickels of the school children should be the base of this fund. It is a direct tie-in with a group of men who are rapidly disappearing." Dr. Green is the chairman of the school committee and on this are John C. Seine, superintendent of the county schools, Vaught R. DeLong, superintendent of the Ellwood City schools, and Rev. Fr. William F. Calvey of St. Mary's church, who will act for the parochial schools of the city and county.

The amount needed is now $1400 instead of $1500. The $100 of the New Castle News leads the way in this worthy effort. Others should and undoubtedly will follow.

BUTLER DROPS VOTERS' NAMES

Some 442 Persons Fail To Heed Call To Reinstate Poll Eligibility

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 4.—Names of 442 Butler voters were stricken from the registration rolls by the election commission today. Monday was the last day for ineligible voters to vote during the past two years to reinstate themselves.

The commission sent out notices to 312 such residents of the city. Only 70 persons responded and the other 442 or 90 per cent were stricken from the rolls.

They could be reinstated by mail up to and including Monday but if they want to vote at the primary election, May 17, they will have to appear in person before the commission and register.

None of those persons registered in the boroughs or townships of Butler county have become ineligible as the permanent election law has not been in force two years outside the city of Butler. The county's registered voting strength last November was 31,099.

Works 50 Years For W. R. Hearst

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Fifty years ago today, a young fellow with a Boston accent walked into the office of the old Daily Examiner in San Francisco and asked for the composing room foreman.

"I want a job" he told the foreman.

The latter looked him over a bit doubtfully.

"Well, we have an opening" he said "but I'm sick and tired of putting on boomers. I'll tell you what I'll do, though—give me your word that if you make the grade, you'll stay on the job at least six months."

Agreed, the young fellow from back east went to work. He stayed not just for six months, but a half century, travelling a high road from his post at a type case to one of the most important positions in the publishing world.

Today, George E. Parnass, celebrating his golden anniversary in the service of William Randolph Hearst, is chief engineer and mechanical director of the Hearst chain of newspapers.

There is a population of more than 12,616,300 in the metropolitan area of New York City.

A great crowd attended the Calvary Presbyterian church services Thursday night and heard Dr. W. D. Herrstrom speak on "The World Menace of Fascism."

The Akron man, a well known traveler and preacher, viewed the Black Shirt movement in the light of Bible prophecy. Tonight his subject is to be "The World Menace of Communism." He will show 100 stereopticon pictures taken in Russia, Spain and America. As an added feature he will show pictures of the airship Hindenburg disaster.

Dr. Herrstrom has made special investigation of radical and subversive movements and is an authority on the subject, the Calvary Presbyterian pastor, Rev. R. J. Fredericks, states.

Correct This Sentence: "I loathe their religion and political ideas," said the lover of liberty, "but I am with them in their fight for freedom."

DELEGATE TO PEACE CONFERENCE SPEAKS

A thoughtful interpretation of the recent Peace Conference at Washington, D. C., was presented at a meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Thursday night by Dr. Mildred Rogers, of this city, who had represented a number of the local clubs as a delegate.

Miss Dorothy Heneker, international vice president of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who is visiting Dr. Rogers, was introduced at the meeting and offered some interesting remarks.

The meeting was sponsored by the three business girls' clubs of the Y. W. C. A.

Elks' Fish Fry Is Gala Lodge Affair

Members of the New Castle lodge of Elks thronged the lodge home last night for one of a series of fish fry entertainments. Festivities started at eight and continued until late.

HOLDS RECORD FOR PACIFIC FLIGHTS

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 4.—The world's record for ocean flying is probably held by 28-year-old Captain Max Weber, Pan American Airways pilot who has crossed the Pacific 40 times.

In over two years service on the transpacific air route from California to Manila and China, the youthful clipper pilot has amassed a total of 340,000 miles in flying the world's biggest ocean.

With each trip approximately 2,500 miles long, his total distance is nearly equal to 14 times around the world at the equator.

Now on flight duty in Miami, Captain Weber is piloting the famous flying clipper ship to the West Indies, Panama, San Francisco, and other ports.

His advanced record in service on board the largest commercial aircraft, the China Clipper, type of 25-ton flying boat which has made aviation history.

River Bank Wall

Wall On One Side Of River Is Completed — Workmen
Finishing Project

Having already completed the high retaining wall on one side of the river, workmen are now engaged in the river bed and getting ready to construct the remaining wall on the side of the river away from Masoningtown.

The plan for this construction project is to keep the water in the river from washing away the soil along the river bank and weakening the levee structure. The walls when completed will also prevent the river from overflowing its banks to the surrounding community.

The walls are constructed of large stone blocks and packed with earth. There are wide channels at the top to constitute a roadway, and lower many feet out of the water.

Work on the project has been under way for many months, and is now shaping up very satisfactorily.

L. W. Patton, of Wabash avenue, has returned to his home following a visit with relatives in Huntington, Indiana.

Dorothy Hall, of North Cedar street, is recovering nicely at her home from illness.

A short practice session was conducted during the hours, and was followed by a delicious luncheon served by Miss Bumbaugh.

Work Of W. P. A. Along West
Pittsburg Road Presents
Soil Erosion

The long stone retaining wall constructed along the West Pittsburg road, during the past year by W. P. A. workmen, is serving very nicely, keeping the hillside from washing down to the road.

Hereafter after heavy rains, or when snow melted from the hills along the road, it would bring a great deal of earth down upon the road.

This wall is constructed of heavy stone blocks, five rows high, standing about two yards above the road surface. This wall prevents the dirt from washing down on to the road.

Wounds His Wife In Struggle
For Gun, Police Enter
Case

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4.—Harvey J. Albright, 56, of suburban Verona, was in jail instead of on a suicide's bier today and his wife was in a serious condition in the hospital as a result of her successful attempt to prevent him from ending his life with a double-barreled shotgun, according to police.

The wife, Elizabeth, was wounded in the left breast and arm in the struggle to wrest the gun from her husband after he announced his decision to commit suicide. Albright reloaded the gun, according to detectives, but changed his mind and took his wife to the police station in Verona from where she was rushed to a hospital by police.

This wall is constructed of heavy stone blocks, five rows high, standing about two yards above the road surface. This wall prevents the dirt from washing down on to the road.

SAVE ELECTRICITY WITH FLAT BOTTOM UTENSILS

Homemakers who are planning to install electric ranges are asking the question: "Can we use our old cooking utensils?"

Kettles and saucepans for use on an electric range should have a bottom surface which will absorb the greatest amount of heat from the unit, says Miss Mary Vogie, home economics extension representative of Lawrence county. The tops and insides of utensils should be designed to lose a minimum amount of heat into the room.

Experiments have shown that a saucepan with a shiny polished bottom reflects heat away from the contents. Thus it requires more electricity than a dull, dark bottom for the same amount of cooking.

Saucepans and kettles should be reasonably flat on the bottom with no bulge up or down and no rim, especially a sharp, narrow one which raises it above the unit. Utensils made from metals which will resist warping for the greatest time may be the most economical, that is, for stoves with a unit that requires flat bottom utensils.

For some types of heating units, the bottom surface of metal pans, such as aluminum, steel and copper, should be unpainted, rough, or even better black.

The size is important also. Utensils which cover the unit and are not over two inches wider than the unit are most satisfactory. If the unit is wider the contents of the kettle will heat no faster. A utensil that is much wider than the unit loses heat from the side and top.

The time required to start cooking depends on how much of the bottom of the pan is receiving heat directly from the unit.

Utensils with straight sides and well-fitting covers around the rim are best suited for cooking on the electric range, reminds Miss Vogie.

Youth League Has Election

Progressive Youth League of New Castle held their first meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. recently.

The following officers were elected: Dan Ryan, president; June

Frank, secretary-treasurer; Bill Nolte, literature agent; Joel Levin, publishing and membership director. The group adopted a broad youth program with its main objective to unite all progressive youth in order to bring about the desired needs of youth. John Berry, Pittsburgh, spoke of the American Youth Congress, presenting a vivid picture of the part the youth is playing in local and national affairs.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 9, in the Y. M. C. A. center on Neshannock avenue.

Maria Abba, Italian actress, best known in America for her impersonations of the Russian grand duchess in the stage version of the play, "Tovarich," was recently married to Severance A. Miltkin, Cleveland, O. Will she give up the stage? Husband says "yes."

Mothers! Treat Children's Colds This Proved Way

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was further proved in the world's largest cold-clinic. No "dosing"—just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Almost at once, its poultice-and-vapor action starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Tax Free Homes For Persons Of Retirement Age Are Now Suggested

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff
Copyright, 1938

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Home ownership should be—and most likely will become—a key factor in any long range program of social security in the United States, in the opinion of Irwin S. Chanin, noted architect, engineer and builder of homes and skyscrapers.

As a starting point in such a policy, Chanin said in an interview today, homes of persons reaching retirement age should be made tax free for life.

Tax Free After 65.

Chanin's suggestion is that a worker's home should become tax free when he reaches the age of 65, providing it is used only as a private residence by the worker or his widow.

Chanin, sitting in his office on the 52nd floor of the big skyscraper which bears his name, talked authoritatively on the building situation. For almost 20 years he has been adding skyscraper office build-

Many Horses Are Still Being Used In Lawrence County

Advent Of Auto, Truck And Tractor, Fail To Eliminate "Old Dobbin"

When we see such a huge amount of automobiles, trucks and the like, and about the only horses we see in the city, is the rag-man's or an occasional ash-man's horse, we wonder if there would be any need for a harness shop.

On the other hand, a reputable horse harness and equipment company has investigated and finds that there are hundreds of miles of horses and mules in the United States, and about 325,000 in Pennsylvania. Two middle western states in the wheat belt have over 400,000 each.

Some of the farmers in this district use nothing but horses, it is reported. Among them are Joe Burton, Tom Cooper, Charles Turner, Ed. Wagner and Bill Martin. However, there are very few farmers in this district that do not use horses, and often have two or more teams.

The horses used here today are much larger than the horses of 15 years ago, then they averaged about 1400 pounds, now they will weigh from 1700 to 2000 pounds.

Investigation here shows that there is still a steady demand for all kinds of harness for horses and other heavy leather goods, despite the advent of the auto, truck and tractor.

Death Beckons To Young Scout, But He Smiles

Scout Commissioner Pins Eagle Badge On Gown Of Boy Believed Dying

(International News Service)

RAHWAY, N. J., Feb. 4.—Death stood at the door today and beckoned for Wilfred Van Fleet, 15, but Wilfred clutched the badge pinned on his hospital garment and managed a faint smile. You see the badge was that of an Eagle Scout and not even death can make an Eagle Scout whimper.

On the day before he was stricken with an intestinal ailment, Wilfred passed the last of his 21 tests for the Eagle badge—highest award in scouting. On his sick bed in the hospital which any moment now may be his death bed, he weakly raised his hand to forehead in the scout salute yesterday as District Scout Commissioner G. Edwin Cook presented the Eagle badge.

Following issuance of the U. S. Declaration of Independence, the British government offered a reward of $2,500 each for capture of the signers.

"Some days I felt so bad and was so dizzy that I felt I could not keep at my housework, but since taking Vendol I got much grand relief from constipation that this brought relief from my other troubles and 'I'm feeling fine again,' said Mrs. W. R. Gilkey of 450 County Line St., New Castle, whose husband is employed by the Steel Car Forge at Ellwood City.

"Allowing myself to be constipated seemed to cause other troubles, because I had frequent attacks of indigestion, stomach was sour and the gas gave awful pains in my stomach and bowels. There was a full heavy feeling after meals and many times I would become nauseated. My nerves were so jumpy I couldn't sleep well.

"Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets certainly are a fine combination and gave the most gratifying relief from constipation I ever had from any medicine, then the indigestion, gas, sour stomach,

Artists Go In For Big Homes

Robert Ripley Has Moated Castle In State Of Connecticut

RETAIN SUITES
IN BIG HOTELS

By O. O. McINTYRE
NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Thoughts of a castle in the state of Connecticut, for the artist Robert Ripley, are likely to be a reality. In a big house in the town of Middletown, Conn., he is building a castle which will be a home for his family and a place for his art collection.

O. O. McIntyre, a writer for the New York Herald Tribune, is the author of the book
"The Art of Robert Ripley," which was published last year.

McIntyre says that Ripley is a man who is not only an artist but also a collector of art. He has a collection of paintings, sculptures, and other works of art which he has gathered together over the years.

Ripley's castle is to be built on a hill overlooking the town of Middletown. It will be a large, modern house with a moat and a drawbridge. It will have a library, a museum, and a place for Ripley's art collection.

list price as of December 31, and then multiply it by four mills. The total is what you owe the state. The same amount is owing to the county also as the county four mill tax must be paid.

If you have ten shares of taxable stock that was selling at $100 per share on December 31, 1937, your total value is $1,000. The four mill tax on this amounts to $4. You owe the state and county each $4.

In an action filed Thursday in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar, Harvey Kirkland asks for $1,000 damages from Howard Buchanan for personal injuries and damage to a truck on January 28, 1936. The plaintiff claims that on the date specified his truck was struck by the car of Buchanan on the Ellwood road and damaged considerably. In addition he claims that he was injured about the back.

Gladding B. Wibart, of New Castle, asks a divorce from his wife, Catherine M. Wibart, on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment. They were married on September 23, 1933.

Herbert E. Reno, of New Castle, asks a divorce from his wife, Agnes Amanda Reno, on the grounds of adultery. They were married June 20, 1925.

District Attorney John G. Lamore appeared in court on Thursday for his first sentence court. Some of the cases were those held over from the regime of District Attorney Mont L. Ailey and others were cases developed since Mr. Lamore took office. County Detective Paul A. Welsh also made his first official appearance in the court room in connection with the sentence court.

One of the things the present court seems determined to wipe out is violation of parole. Two such cases were up and one was given a stiff sentence. The other was kept on parole for the reason that there was no direct evidence to connect him with any crime.

Said Judge Benham to one youth who was paroled: "The court is giving you a chance to go out and be a man among men. You are young, your family name is good and you have a strong healthy body. You will be placed on probation and will be expected to report regularly. If you let us down, and violate your parole in any way, you can be brought into court and sentenced to the penitentiary or some other penal institution."

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A handkerchief that pulled a trigger was blamed today for the fatal shooting of Michael B. Donovan, 38, former shortstop of the old New York Yankees, by his best friend, Joseph A. Courtney, 32.

The two men, employed as guards by the Consolidated Edison Co., were standing in the pay line. Courtney pulled his handkerchief from his hip pocket, in doing so the handkerchief became entangled with his gun. When he tried to disengage it, the weapon was discharged. Donovan, standing in front of his friend, was struck and instantly killed by the bullet.

Police absolved Courtney.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Material Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

SHORTHAND AWARDS

Miss Genevieve Riddle of the Commercial department, announced that students from her shorthand classes have passed the January 100 word test. The students that qualified are as follows: Jane Davis, Helen Kline, Rose Sands, Rose Nader and Patricia Julian.

BOYS' LUNCH ROOMS

A change has been made in the boys' lunch rooms this semester. Instead of eating in the rooms assigned them other semesters, they eat in Study 1 and at tables placed in the basement main hall for their convenience. Mr. Klee has changed the boys' lunch rooms fifth period and Mr. Nelson, the sixth period. The faculty and the student body hope this adjustment will prove very successful, as the previous crowded conditions created unnecessary disturbance, and it is believed that this experiment will eliminate this difficulty.

AN EDITORIAL

At the beginning of our new semester we find that three hundred and fifty-four sophomores have joined our ranks. There were two hundred and twenty-four seniors who graduated on January 28, and a great many of them are returning on February 8 to take a post-graduate course. The increase in the student body is quite noticeable particularly at lunch time.

The sophomores, as usual, are the targets for junior and senior persiflage. It seems as if there is just no pity for the poor sophomore who is directed to study four when his schedule says study one, or when a fellow student leads him down the stairs and tells him, "These stairs are to go up." But we know that soon the sophomore will learn where to go and then he won't appear any different than the dignified senior.

Most of the sophomore session rooms are located on the third floor. When they become juniors they descend to the second floor and the basement and when they are seniors they are on the first floor. It would seem as if the older they become the less energetic they are.

Sophomores, be courteous to the junior and seniors and they will be courteous to you!

NEW CHORUS FORMED

Robert Duff, director of vocal music at Senior High School, has taken charge of the arrangement of new choral group, in the school.

Mr. Duff also announced that the enrollment in the course has doubled this semester, and great things are expected of them.

A division has been made, for both boy and girl choral groups, which are being inaugurated this semester. It is also hoped that this change will meet with success.

PREPARATION FOR MUSIC CONTEST

It was announced by J. F. Replogle, music director of Senior High School, that the school will enter a solo and ensemble groups in the annual music contest.

Mr. Replogle stated that, due to the efforts of the Music Committee to raise the necessary funds for obtaining new uniforms for the Glee Club, the high school will not be represented by either band or orchestra in the contest.

There has also been a change in the arrangement of the contest finals and national competition is no longer held. In its stead, regional events are being inaugurated this year. The reason given was that the great distance to the national center, made it impossible for many entries to participate.

The region of which Pennsylvania is a part, includes both the New England and the North Atlantic states.

Capacity Crowd Hears Dr. Dunner

Noted Novelist, Lecturer, Tells About 'The Tragedy Of European Jewry Today'

EVENT IS HELD IN COSMO CLUB

Before a crowd that over-taxed the capacity of the first floor of the Cosmo club 217 North Market street, Thursday evening, Dr. Josef Dunner, noted poet and religious refugee, one of the first to warn the world of the consequences of Nazism in Germany, said that "Jewish martyrs are asking an heroic stand against persecution in Europe."

Dr. Dunner also explained that "In a poisoned atmosphere, the Jews are putting up a remarkable fight for freedom and law. It seems as if the Jewish tragedy overseas can cut touch bottom. Throughout Europe, there are today some 25,000 refugees from the anti-Jewish terror. The great part of them living in need. About 5,000,000 Jews in all are the victims of governmental anti-Semitism and policies of unchecked anti-Semitic persecution. Their economic existence is constantly threatened and for tens of thousands of them their very lives are in danger."

In a comprehensive manner, the internationally known lecturer told about his travels in various countries and the conditions that exist. The address was thoroughly enjoyed by the throng.

Following the lecture, Dr. Dunner answered quite a few questions asked by the audience.

The meeting was sponsored by the local district Zionist Organization of America in cooperation with the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee. Sam Barstow, chairman in charge, presided and introduced the speaker. During the course of the evening, Dr. H. A. Frank, who attended a conference in Washington, D. C., gave a brief resume of the event.

Present at the meeting were quite a few residents of Ellwood City, Butler, Beaver Falls and surrounding towns.

Make Report On Investigation Of Air Crash Here

Government Report Is Made On Fatal Plane Accident Here On November 11

Poor judgment in performing acrobatic maneuvers at a dangerously low altitude together with failure to maintain proper control of the aircraft, is given as the probable cause for the plane crash which killed Aleck Sroczynski and Daniel Burick, near Castlewood in November.

The Department of Commerce Bureau of Air Commerce at Washington has just released the statement regarding the cause of the crash and places the blame on the pilot's judgment.

According to the report which was submitted by Fred D. Fogg, Jr., director of the department, Sroczynski was flying the plane and Daniel Burick was a passenger. Investigation of the wreckage, according to the statement, failed to give any indication of failure of the aircraft or engine prior to the accident.

The plane was the property of Harold H. Hinkle, of Hiusville, and was completely destroyed. Sroczynski and Burick had rented the ship at a Youngstown, O., airport and were on a pleasure flight over the district.

The author of "Grand Hotel," Yip H. Baum, Austrian, has taken out her first American citizenship papers. Miss Baum is now a Hollywood writer.

PROLIFIC HOLSTEIN COW
(International News Service)
WOOSTER, O.—A Holstein cow owned by D. M. Hartman would have been a natural for the Toronto stock derby had the contest applied to cattle. The cow has given birth to six consecutive sets of twin calves in the last eight years.

Dairy experts say that although twin calves are not a rarity, Hartman's cow holds the modern record in any "calf stock derby."
